ARKIEVA NAMED A TOP LOGISTICS IT PROVIDER BY INBOUND LOGISTICS MAGAZINE FOR ITS ADVANCED PLANNING SOFTWARE

WILMINGTON, DEL. – 5/4/2011 – Arkieva (www.arkieva.com), designer and supplier of the Arkieva suite of advanced planning and scheduling (APS) software products, announced today that it has been recognized by Inbound Logistics as a Top Logistics IT Provider for its excellence in supply chain solutions. This is the fifth consecutive year that Arkieva has been named to the IL 100 list.

“Companies recognized as Top 100 Logistics IT Providers such as Arkieva represent clear leadership in supply chain and logistics innovation, consistently delivering products and solutions that meet the increasingly complex needs of their clients given the challenging dynamics experienced in the global supply chain and logistics sector,” said Felecia Stratton, editor of Inbound Logistics.

Arkieva APS solutions support the full range of tools required for effective Sales and Operations Planning (S&OP), including demand management, supply planning, network optimization, inventory planning and finite scheduling. Arkieva products are currently in use to support client operations in North America, EMEA, Asia, Latin America, and Eastern Europe.

Every April, Inbound Logistics editors recognize 100 logistics IT companies that support and enable logistics excellence. Drawn from a pool of more than 300 companies, Inbound Logistics selects the Top 100 Logistics IT Providers who are leading the way in 2011. All companies selected reflect leadership by answering Inbound Logistics readers’ needs for scalability, simplicity, fast ROI, and ease of implementation.

“In today’s unpredictable economic climate, companies are looking to conserve capital and implement solutions that provide near-term and sustainable impacts on the bottom line,” said Sujit Singh, Arkieva’s chief operating officer. “Many of our customers have used our supply chain solutions for a decade through good times and bad. Their success has always been our success.”
